FEBRUARY'S LIGHT

The great fact of February is the increasing light. Mornings start sooner. This in itself would not be an advantage; but when one has to get up anyway, it is less severe to get up in the morning than in a continuance of the night in which one went to bed. Besides having more morning, February also has more afternoon. The three preceding months have no evenings. February begins the promise of evenings.

February may also bring the crow, outlandish outsider in the long procession of Spring. Laughter is heard more frequently in the streets under the sun. Then (excepting on the coast) there come sleek-armoured winds and record cold snaps, and then corn snow crisping under still more sunlight.

Sharers of the loop of increasing light, the peoples of North America and Russia and Britain feel a renewal of primitive hopes. They peer out of their dwellings much as their ancestors peered out of caves, speculating on the brightening prospect of the land and on the vast stirrings of nature.

Sharers in the strengthening sun, these Northern people are also sharers in the awful decision of what man may become, whether an adequate being competent to survive and flourish in his environment of earth and the other planets, or an uncertain creature peering again from the cave.

Let the free world not be too much beguiled by February's quickening light. Whatever effect it may have on millions of Russians, little of the light gets into the Kremlin. Let the free peoples use February's renewed surge of spirit to bring themselves closer together in the purpose of peace with an end to hickering and a great leap forward in mutual accord. Then they will be too strong to lose the world, and some future February's light may begin to filter even into the Kremlin.

THAT BRITISH TRADE AGAIN

Our old readers will be already well aware of our attitude regarding trade with Britain. We have commented on it editorially many times; and, by the way, were gratified to see one of our recent editorials copied in "People's Weekly" under the flattering heading "Sound Reasoning."

Moreover, we are pleased to note that commentators in the press, no less than Elmore Philpotts, are taking up the warning about that, unless we trade more with Britain we are sure, very sure, to lose more and more of our most valuable export outlet.

The matter of Britain's economics is one of dire necessity. Goods must be paid for, and under the present or any other economic system, they must be paid for by the simple expedient of returning goods or services. If we observe, we cannot hope to refuse to accept these goods and services, we cannot hope to escape damaging our own market.

No amount of talk about Empire ties, or the things we have done in the past for Britain puts dollars in the British pocket to buy our goods. These dollars must come from exports or from a dwindling capital reserve. And any of us who have ever tried to live on capital knows that you've either got to have a lot to start with, or go out to work sooner or later. To feed a nation like Britain from the liquidation of capital reserves would indeed be a short-lived procedure.

The solution is obvious, but difficult. We have developed a sales resistance to British goods, largely because of the fact that the British manufacturer has not made the proper efforts to accommodate his products to our wishes, and has failed to utilize adequately the great advertising mediums available. Advertising, as it is done by most manufacturers, is a costly business—but it has become an essential to business strength. The Canadian is constantly impressed with highly colored and really artistic advertisements heralding the virtues and ability of products either made in the United States or produced in Canada by subsidiaries of United States manufacturers. These advertisements leave an impression of desirability that it takes a lot of time to erase. Certainly nothing less than an intensive campaign of publicity could have any great effect.

Here, too, there is difficulty—for there is little use advertising products which are not readily available, and the process of establishing proper outlets is one in which the British have encountered exceedingly great difficulties. This is indeed a problem which will call for the best brains and business ability, but it's solution cannot be arrived at without a sympathetic attitude on the part of every Canadian.

The prospect of loss of our British market is no small matter, and unfortunately it is a reality which cannot be sidestepped.

When the teacher asked the little boy if his father helped him with his lesson, he replied: "Now, I got it wrong myself."

TWO WEIRD PROPHECIES

We read a couple of startling articles this week, and perhaps you read them, too. The first was Beverly Baxter's prediction that Winston Churchill would be returned to power in England at the next election, in Maclean's; and the second was Elmore Philpott's admission that George Drew "might" lead the Conservatives to victory in the next Canadian election. The British Labour Government's foreign policy and Sir Stuart Crisp's austerity program have got great masses of the people beaten. Some of the nationalization projects have not gotten along too well, either. Through necessity Britain now finds it necessary to protect her interests in Malaya and to practically the same as the Dutch have been accused of doing in Indonesia. Attlee's political stature has been steadily shrinking and the Britisher does not like his inspired leadership. British stock is a little low in Canada at the moment over some of the recent trade arguments which have been negotiated with Soviet dominated countries. We have not adopted the reflective attitude of some, who go so far as suggesting that Britain turn to the Communist countries for help when she gets into trouble again, but we can readily understand why some people do. We rather think that such changes in attitude are resented by the true Britisher as much as by ourselves. Maybe Baxter sees more than we do.—Camrose Canadian.

A man returning home unusually late was tiptoeing into his bedroom when his wife woke up. "Is that you, John?" she asked sleepily.

"Well," he answered, "it better be."

THE WEEK AT OTTAWA

Parliament opened with none of the pomp of pre-war years in Ottawa last week, but there was every indication it will turn out to be one of the liveliest in recent history.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, immediately showed the Commons his party would have no truck with the Government of Prime Minister St. Laurent.

He clashed—and won his point—when Mr. St. Laurent moved to adjourn debate on the throne speech after two days in order to get along with legislation to facilitate Newfoundland's entry into confederation.

Prime Minister St. Laurent finally withdrew a procedural motion, and word went around that Mr. Drew—as new as Mr. St. Laurent to national party leadership—had won the first battle of words.

But the fifth session of Canada's 26th parliament had not gone into its third day before Mr. St. Laurent showed governmental strength by winning the first division of the Commons hands down.

By a vote of 111 to 10 the Commons agreed to approve a government motion which would interrupt the throne speech debate at the end of this week to give precedence to the debate on Newfoundland.

C.C.F. and Social Credit parties voted solidly in support of the government when Mr. Drew and his supporters demanded a vote on the grounds the government was perpetuating a habit of declaring emergencies, just as they did in wartime.

Before the vote was taken, Mr. St. Laurent told the House there actually was an element of urgency. The United Kingdom government was threatening to take legislative action which it must take if Newfoundland is to enter the Canadian Federation on the target date of March 31.

Making his first full-dress speech since he became opposition leader of the Commons, Mr. Drew charged the constitution is being threatened, by federal attempts to deny independent provincial taxing power.

Before moving the traditional motion of non-confidence in the Liberal administration, he clarified his position and demanded immediate resumption of a Dominion-provincial conference.

He then moved a briefly worded motion to advise the governor-general "that your excellency's advisors do not possess the confidence of this house."

A decision on the motion will not be made for several weeks.

Joining in the debate of the throne speech, Mr. St. Laurent criticized the Progressive Conservative party for a lack of coherence in its policy of defence.

There appeared to be a split, he said, in the views of Progressive Conservative party officials in Quebec and other parts of the country.

The prime minister said the situation had created in the minds of some a "feeling of uncertainty as to where the Progressive Conservative party stands on the matter of defence."

He said the Western nations—It causes some people who see these various statements to be disturbed.

The Canadian government last week released the United States dragger Arado, found fishing within the three-mile limit in the Bay of Fundy.

The $40,000 vessel was held in Canadian custody for several days while the fisheries department requested advice from the Justice department as to exactly what it should do about the boat.

At once the government announced it likely would prosecute the vessel under the Customs and Fisheries Protection Act for trespassing. Its catch of fish found aboard would be sold and the money held until the case was disposed of in the exchequer court.

Later a government spokesman said the crew of the vessel would be released, but not before establishing that there were repeated reports of violations of the law on the part of Americans catching lobsters and herring in Canadian waters.

The state of Maine protested that if the Canadian government proceeded with prosecution, there would be counter-reprisals against Canadians found fishing illegally in American waters.

However, the government persisted until later Friday night when Justice Minister Garson announced the release of the vessel.

Fisheries Minister Mayhew said the vessel's direction-finder had been faulty, but he had established that the Arado's infraction of the law had been unintentional.

Dear Sir:

Re: Farmer's Bonspiel and the future.

The Farmer's Bonspiel sponsored by the curling club was even a greater event than the one last year. Half as many farmers again participated.

There were 25 rinks a total of 125 farmers and many more showed their interest by looking on.

It cost the Wainwright Curling Club a lot of money to build and equip their rink. The curling rinks owned by the individual members also cost considerable. The overall cost is high. It is for these reasons we should be very thankful that the curling club sponsors the Farmer's Bonspiel.

I would like to thank you H. E. Buckle, chairman, D. Ratnay-President, Alex. Rustan, caretaker, ladies for the luncheon, prize donors and anyone else who made the day a big day of fun for us.

And, now looking ahead. Many expressed the complaint they did not get enough curling. Others complained they got too much, however their aches and pains were soon forgotten when they were able to take home their own battery home for their car or tractor or a jack knife for their pocket.

Some expressed the desire to join the curling club next winter. These days when the roads are becoming more "winterized" curling for farmers is made possible. However, for some reason it just doesn't seem easy for some farmers to drive to town week nights. I believe that considering this fact a plan could be worked out to provide some curling for farmers.

Farmer's day in town is Saturday. The kids are home from school and they too like to see town once a week. The curling days in 1948-49 are numbered, but maybe something could be done for 1949-50.

Some would like to see another Farmer's Bonspiel this winter. This in my opinion is not leaving good enough alone. I would not be in favor of this, however I am in favor of Saturday curling for farmers. The members of the Curling Club assess themselves a fee, this fee is supposed to cover the expenses for a year. If Saturday curling was provided for farmers a fee should be set to compare with the Club member's fee. We as farmers do not ask for something for nothing. We want to pay our share. Many farmers thought a fee should have been charged for the Bonspiel.

For next winter perhaps a scheme could be worked out, for Saturday curling for farmers. Perhaps teams could be made up and two or three draws played off each Saturday. Week nights are taken for men and ladies club draws.

In closing I would like to say that the Curling Clubs have always welcomed men and women from the country and no doubt will extend that welcome next winter. For those who would find week day curling difficult but would like to curl Saturdays action should be taken now before the Curling Club annual meeting.

Yours truly,
JACK PERKINS

It wanted the government to examine its various research activities and lay down means of expanding and co-ordinating "an important work."

ALBERTA M.P. ASKS $ CENTS CANDY BARS
OTTAWA—Robert Pat, B.C.—Belle River, who confessed that he hasn't bought a candy bar for years, urged the government in the Commons Thursday to do something about getting bigger, better and cheaper candy bars for children.

He said the government should remove its sales tax not only on the bars but also on soft drinks so that children could buy them for a nickel as they did in pre-war years.

SET EXAMPLE
 TEXT: "Jesus early teaching and healing" — Mark 1:4-15; 32-39; Luke 4:14-21.
MEMORY SELECTION: "He went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and preaching the gospel of the kingdom and healing every disease." — Matt. 4:23.
 We begin this study at the point where we closed last week's lesson with Luke 4:15. This is Jesus' alternative to the ideal that came before Him in His Temptations. Here are the lines along which He will move, the Gospel of God's grace to the poor, release for captives, healing for the maimed and leprosy, and a new reign of peace. This is love in action.
 His Church is following Christ's example still. By her Gospel of forgiveness, by her mission hospitals in Canada and foreign lands, by the relief which her contributions bring to the destitute in Europe and other countries, by her rescue work for the slaves of sin, the Church is following the example of her Master and carrying out the programme laid down in this verse.
 Another fact of vast significance is Jesus' self-consciousness, and sense of Mission. At His baptism He had been greeted by His Father as His beloved Son and here He recognizes the fact that His divine Sonship carries with it the fulfillment of old prophecies.
 Mark sounds the keynote of Jesus' first message in Mark 1:14-15: "The time is fulfilled, and the Kingdom of God is at hand; repent, and believe in the Gospel." John the Baptist had preached the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins, (Mark 1:4).
 We read in the second Psalm that in defiance of the rage of the heathen, God had set His King on His holy hill of Zion and greeted Him as His Son.
ASCOT
 Mr. Cliff Gulekson was a week-end visitor at the Gulekson home. Visitors to R. Lucio's on Sunday were Sharon Jackson, Olga Lucio, Stanley Hill and Harvey Hamilton.
 We are sorry to hear R. Lucio's son is on the sick list.
 Mr. and Mrs. E. and C. Gulekson and Cliff were visitors to the Jackson's on Sunday afternoon.
 Fern Jackson had a pleasant surprise last Wednesday, when some friends from town arrived to wish Fern a happy birthday and help her celebrate it. They spent a very enjoyable evening playing games, quizes, etc. arranged by Mrs. Glen Valdez. Fern was presented with a lovely stippled case from them all, followed by a delicious lunch.

Ascot Farm Forum
 Ten members met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Harrison on Monday night, January 31 for the regular meeting of Radio Forum. The topic "This Little Pig Went To Market" dealt with the marketing of agricultural products. The members were in favour of boards similar to the Wheat Board for marketing all of our products and of quotas being placed on products if surpluses should develop; quotas not only for Canada but for the world so that the food supply might be more evenly divided for all peoples.
 After a short recreation period Mrs. Harrison served lunch.
SLIGO - MASCOT
 The Sligo community club held their monthly meeting in the school on Feb. 2. In spite of the cold a fair crowd turned out. After the business meeting the evening was spent in games and contests and cards. At the close of the evening a sumptuous lunch was served by Smiles, Nansel and Postans. The next gathering will be a card party on February 16.

SEA CADET NOTES
 The boys were seen in action Friday and Saturday at the Ice Show, the action being excellent Friday night and Saturday. The latest report of the boys was that they were holding cold steel butts, they put on a good show. R.P.O. MacKenzie was every inch a petty officer and the squad was every inch the sailors. Good service was rendered by our Bugler Cadet Harden, and Drummers Mitchell and Harley. Cadets MacGregor and Carlier were excellent escorts for the Little Fairy King and Queen.
 Since the last write up the boys have been continuing their training and getting ready for their annual inspection which takes place in May. P.O. L.S. and Signaller exams are coming up in March. Since these are given by Headquarters staff from HMCS Nonsuch the boys are going to have to really live up.
New License Plates To Be Out March 15th.
 First issuance of new motor car licenses for the 1949-50 license year which will open April 1 will be around March 15, according to information received by officials of the Alberta Motor Association. The plates were made available about this same time in recent years.
 As was the case last year, rear and front plates will be issued. The color combination this year will be red numerals on a white background. This is regarded as a blending of colors which should provide an attractive plate and one that can be identified without difficulty.
 While there has been considerable speculation as to whether the provincial authorities intend to tighten up regulations as to testing first applicants for drivers' licenses, an official announcement by the government might not be made before the legislature opens Feb. 17.
 Need of adopting a system of proper tests of those seeking drivers' licenses for the first time was urged when provincial directors of the A.M.A. met in Calgary last December.

 "Dad," inquired the high school junior, "what can I do when a pretty girl keeps talking to me day after day in class?"
 "Well," replied papa, "you can have your seat changed, of course, but if she's like your mother, she'll get you in the long run, regardless."
 There was a placid look on Charlie's face as he walked in the front door and Maggie was encouraged. He had been late for work that morning, and his wife had helped him concoct what she considered an air-tight excuse for his tardiness.
 "Well," she now remarked, "I said it was a sure-fire excuse, didn't I?"
 Charlie grinned, albeit a little weakly.
 "It was," he agreed. "He sure fired me."

On Thursday January 27th the group will have their mothers' meeting at the home of Mary Baxter and were pleased to have as their guest Miss Grace Horby, district economist from Vegreville.

She gave a general outline of the work required and a demonstration in embroidery stitches. A delicious lunch was served.

Death and Funeral of Mrs. E. McDonald

The death of Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald, an elderly lady of 75 years of age, occurred on January 22nd, 1949, at her home in the district of Paradise Valley still another of its well-known and highly respected residents. She was the widow of Adam McDonald who predeceased her in June, 1918.

The deceased lady was born in Dewar, Forthshire, England and came to Alberta in 1912. The following year she married Mr. McDonald, one of the first homesteaders in the Moverton district where they lived until they moved into the village of Paradise Valley in 1928.

During her residence in Moverton, Mrs. McDonald was well known for her friendly hospitality. She was a loyal supporter of the church service that were held in Moverton school for many years, and in all social activities of the district she was always ready to give unstinting help. Since moving to Paradise Valley she has been closely identified with the United Church and its various activities.

Mrs. McDonald is survived by two sons—George Kesteven of Edmonton, the son of her first marriage in Edmonton, and Albert McDonald of Paradise Valley, her second husband. She also has a son, Mr. Andrew of Victoria, B.C., and four brothers—Henry Pickles of Courtenay, B.C., Bert Pickles of Victoria, Joseph Pickles of Dawson Creek, Alta., and Fred Pickles of Stoney, Alta. Also an adopted daughter, Hazel, of Abbotsford, B.C.

The funeral service was sympathetically and understandingly conducted by the Rev. E. N. Morrison of Lloydminster on Monday afternoon, Jan. 24th, in Paradise Valley United Church. A large congregation of sympathizing friends gathered in tribute.

The hymns sung were—"Rock of Ages, Cleft for Me", "Jesus is Tenderly Calling Me Home", and "Peace, Perfect Peace".

Mr. Frank Hall was the organist. After the church service the interment took place at the Paradise Valley Cemetery.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Colin Hall, Cecil Conroy, Gordon Guy, Robert Blackley, Bill Quinn and Tucker Rayson.

There was a large number of floral tributes, as well as donations to various charities and organizations, in memory of Mrs. McDonald from the following:

In Loving Memory: From the Family, Albert and Sally, Alex and May, Bob, Hazel and Howard and all the grand-

The Pastor and Mrs. W. B. Challenger attended the Presbytery meeting at Ryley, Wednesday last. All the ministers were present and lay representatives from every field but one, also Dr. Thos. Hart, the Superintendent of Home Missions. The opening of the annual period was taken by Rev. G. A. Steele. The reports and discussions were all interesting and indicated considerable progress had been made.

Rev. G. A. Steele presented his application for retirement the same to take effect June 30th of this year. It will be 41 years this summer since Mr. Steele began his ministry in the Province of Alberta and has carried on in the province ever since.

FRED ALLEN WAITS FOR MAINE EVENT

Another Maine man will be walking down Main Street, Sunday, February 13th at 8:00 p.m. (EST) over NBC, when Fred Allen entertains Doc Rockwell, just two weeks ago, Fred's guest was the Maine State singer, Rudy Vallee. Girding themselves for the second invasion from "Down East" are Portland, Kenny Delmar, Purvis Pennelly, Minerva Pious and Peter Donald. The Five DeMarco Sisters and Al Goodman's orchestra are preparing appropriate music.

Fred's fascination with the state of Maine, while hard to explain, is nothing new. Several years back, during a previous Rockwell visit, Allen's curiosity about the state grew so strong that he insisted that Doc describe the Maine flag. Always loyal to his native land, Rockwell was able to picture the pendant in some detail. The flag of the state of Maine shows the head of a moose rampant on a field of blue.

Allen wanted to know how you could tell the difference. "Well," said Doc, "the potatoes have their eyes open."

Finding in Doc Rockwell a perfect weather, experienced considerable difficulty with freezing temperatures, but were able to prevent the fire from spreading.

Two explosions accompanied the fire, a small one near the beginning of the fire and a second, believed to be an ammonia tank, after the fire was well under way.

Lloydminster officials said that it would be possible to continue the processing of crude oil except for the dehydration process. This would be held up for three or four months, depending on the possibility of securing necessary equipment replacing that destroyed in the fire.

E. A. Pitman and D. R. Saul Named To School Board

Interest in school matters seems to have hit a new low in Chauvin, and this is indeed astonishing when we consider that a brand new school is being built, which will be the centre for quite a number of rural schools in the future.

Attendance at the meeting held on Monday night consisted of two board members, the secretary and one taxpayer.

However, an interesting discussion took place, and as a result of the election to fill the vacancies caused by the expiry of E. A. Pitman's term of office and the resignation of L. D. Albertson, Mr. Pitman was returned for a term of three years, and D. R. Saul filled the other vacancy for a term of two years.

CAR ACCIDENT

Last week saw a rather costly accident on the "Miller" corner on third avenue when car driven by Joe Rainhart and Jimmie Goodall collided. The result was nobody hurt badly, but quite a bit of bashed up car. Key roads which rendered brakes ineffective contributed to the accident.

In a fast clean game played before a small crowd Monday night, Jan. 31, the Chauvin team turned back the Wainwright boys 7-2.

The only goal of the 1st period was scored by Olenberger assisted by Gibbons. In the 2nd period Wahlberg opened the scoring assisted by Panner. Gibbons got the second score unassisted. Then Olenberger got his second goal of the night assisted by Roy Belnach to make the score read 4-0 at the end of the 2nd period.

George Belnach opened the scoring in the third period assisted by Wahlberg and Panner. Then Parker of Wainwright got two quick ones to make the score read 5-2. Only to have Olenberger and George Belnach come back with one each before the period ended making the final score 7-2. The Deferred Annual Meeting of the Chauvin and District Board of Trade was held in the rest room at 8 o'clock February 1st, 1949.

Mr. Parson, Mr. Shantz that Wm. Miller be Chairman pro tem. Cd.

The minutes of meetings July 6th 1948, Oct. 4th 1948 and Nov. 15th 1948 were read and adopted on motion of Mr. Neil and Mr. Keith. Cd.

Correspondence was read from Wm. Masson M.A., Municipal District of Provost also maps displayed as prepared by President Mr. D. Albertson.

Much discussion ensued. Mr. Miller spoke re details he had heard from the South side. Mr. Keith had a letter from the Village of Maclellin. It was felt that Provost was more interested in the road north to Ribstone, while we had no road to Maclellin or Hayville without going additional mileage west.

The direct road having been closed now for 3 or 4 weeks. It was hoped we might have a representative on the Wainwright Municipal Council in the next election. Mr. Pierce and Mr. Keith that map prepared by Mr. D. Albertson be sent to Minister of Public Works with covering letter Cd.

Letter written to Dept. of Telephone. No reply was received. But Mr. Michon of Wainwright had contacted Mr. Shantz to the effect that if signatures secured of users in the Village plus those of the Secretary of Rural Lines 24 hour service could be secured.

On motion of Mr. Baker and D. Polkins that Mr. Shantz and Mr. Ryall be a committee to secure these signatures and follow the matter up to a satisfactory conclusion. Cd.

Some discussion of conditions as regards living quarters for the doctor took place. Committee had been formed at Annual Village Meeting. Mr. D. Albertson had been kind enough to offer his house if required.

Dr. Polkins offered to go for Dr. Oakley so that we could secure his views. He very kindly came to the meeting. He had spent three weeks in the Hotel as the bank committee was not yet fixed. It was cold, the furnace not working and storm windows not on, but he had hopes that premises would prove satisfactory in a short time. He would consult with Mrs. Oakley and probably look after Mr. D. Albertson's home tomorrow and would advise the Council if they could be of any assistance to him in this housing question.

Correspondence between Secretary and Bank of Montreal of both Calgary and Montreal was read in which they were not prepared to grant Chauvin full time banking service. The following Committee were appointed to secure signatures to a petition asking the Bank to reconsider and put in full time service: Dr. Polkins, Mr. Shantz, Mr. Baker and Mr. Pitman.

The Secretary Report was read by the Secretary and showing a balance of $47.20 on hand. Moved by Mr. Keith and Mr. Ryall that report be accepted as read.

Chairman declared the meeting open for nominations for the office of President.

Mr. Miller was declared elected President.

Dr. Polkins was declared elected Vice President and Mr. Hawthorn elected Secretary although objecting.

It was agreed that we have bi-monthly meetings regularly to be held on the first Monday in each month commencing with the month of April other special meetings at the call of the President. Cd.

Mr. Hawthorn, Mr. Fahner that this Board give all our support to Mr. Pitman for vacancy on Municipal Council, and endeavor to secure further support Mr. Baker, Mr. Spence that the executive handle the road problem with despatch.

Much discussion took place regarding the street lights, most of them being out.

Mr. Keith and Mr. Ryall moved that this meeting adjourn.

Calgary laid out an underground wiring system for its downtown section 25 years ago and now has 148 miles of conduit with 62 miles of cable installed.

W. M. S. Meeting

The W.M.S. of Grace United Church met in the Sunday school room on Thursday, Jan. 11th for their January meeting. Mrs. L. W. Smith presided with eight members present.

During the business meeting it was decided that more cards should be ordered, and that a quilting box should be held to quilt for supply work. The top for the quilt was generously donated by Mrs. Symes. Mrs. Hamilton invited all to the Presbyterial meeting which will be held at Irma on February 16th. The guest speaker there will be Miss Florence Jack, returned missionary from West China.

One of the activities of all missionary societies is their supply work. This year the Wainwright Auxiliary is arranging to supply 1 quilt, 6 pairs of boys pyjamas, one layette and other clothing to hospitals of the W.M.S. in Alberta. Mrs. Harley is supply secretary.

A chapter on Medical Missions from the study book "West of the Ganges" was reviewed by Mrs. Hamilton. Mrs. Dobson gave a very interesting devotional, in which she told of some of her experiences as a minister's wife. Mrs. Harley was hostess for the lunch that was served after the meeting. Hostesses for next month Mrs. Lyle and Mrs. Hamilton. Study Book Mrs. Dobson.

Pee-Wee Hockey

The School Warriors pulled out farther in front of the Pee-Wee Hockey League when they won over the Ryan and Mitchell Zeniths by the narrow margin of 2-1. In the only game scheduled this week.

The Warriors did all their scoring in the first period as May picked up the first one unassisted, while Steele fired home Watcher's pass for the second. That was the game as far as the Warriors were concerned.

The second period was scoreless but in the third the Zeniths closed the gap to one goal when McGregor converted Koch's pass. They pressed hard but could not get the equalizer even with the Warriors two men short as a result of penalties at the end of the period. At that the School just managed to hang on to their victory as the game ended.

Tank War In Cold Seen Difficult Job

By Paul H. Munnies

Bulletin Staff Reporter

Wainwright Military Camp—Tank warfare under severe conditions of cold will be a tough proposition for "both sides."

The men who operate these giant machines of the Canadian Army are finding their assignment one of the most rugged of the current "winter indoctrination" program here, and a few hours of knocking around the wild countryside in 25-ton Sherman tanks would convince the most ardent observer that "war can be hell."

I did just that Friday. I rode and drove one of the behemoths at the training grounds a few miles south of here—and a couple of hours later, following emergency field treatment for my badly frost-bitten pair of hands, I have the idea that training means.

It is a hardship and seemingly wanton punishment to the men who have volunteered as part of Canada's vast army training reserve army to keep their country strong.

Routine Foray

The 14th Armoured Tank Regiment made a routine foray into the wild, bushy country as part of their training. I drove the last tank in the echelon formation, as a cutting 20-behind zero wind backed my face and those of the men in the tank.

Corporal Pat Seale sat atop the giant, partly protected from the cold by special winter equipment. Particles of snow swirled about the machine, cutting off vision from the other ten tanks in the formation.

Between the gusts of kicked up snow could be seen the hoar frost-covered tanks of the regiment, fighting their way through new open country. Frost and frozen perspiration rimmed the eyelashes and brows of Cpl. Seale and Crewman Trooper Earl Hocking.

One officer at the Wainwright camp declared that morale is the strongest it has ever been in any reserve camp. A young 18-year-old tank man was going for camp to break up so he could get back to Edmonton and "go active."

At another section of the $4,000,000 training ground was an infantry group working out with a hard hitting six-pounder anti-tank gun.

Barrel of the lethal weapon looked as though it had been dipped in a vat of water and left in sub-zero weather overnight. Frost covered the field piece, and the men operating it were huddled around the sighting machine, parkies and special hats help to keep out the wintry blasts. Provision has even been made in the heavy muffs for a "trigger finger."

A mortar crew was going through the paces with its three-inch weapon lobbing the deadly projectiles with unerring accuracy on a small target 800 yards.

CHAUVIN HOCKEY NOTES

In a hard fought heavy checking game with plenty of the boys from both teams meeting in the cooler for 2 minutes rest. Scores for Chauvin were Wahlberg, Christie 1, Dewar 1.

Both these games were capably handled by Bob Miller.

Thursday night the boys journeyed to Provost to take on the Provost team. After missing a few detours and digging themselves out they finally got there around 8 o'clock. But from there on all went well with our boys. Chalked up a neat 4-3 defeat on the Provost team. Scores for Chauvin were George Belinch 1, Wahlberg 1, Perry 1, Olenberger 1, Gibbons 2.

The highlights of the week were the smooth passing plays of the Olenberger, Gibbons, Belinch line and the Star defence playing of our 60 minute man Doug Perry.

Enjoyable lunch was served by the hostess.

On Feb. 2 a meeting of the Artland Curling Club was held over Mr. Harry Hall's house. New officers were elected for the coming year. We had a turnout of about 20 paid up members. Different committees were appointed from members. Another meeting is to be held Feb. 11. We hope to see all interested in this project present. They say we're going to have a curling rink in Artland. Here's hoping!

There was three hockey pools run in Artland last week. Mr. Lloyd Banyham of Butte being a very lucky winner. He won one pool and tied one with Mr. Sweeney the Scotian Foreman at Butte. The other pool was tied with Mrs. Walter Schopfer and Ron Banyham of the section in Artland.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Dall left for Winnipeg and points east Sunday night on the flyer.

Brady boys visited Chauvin boys in surprising hockey game in a ten minute overplay. The score was 4-1 in favor of Brady. Great playing boys, and another one to take credit.

Mrs. Powell of Unwin is visiting Mrs. B. Walcott over the week-end.

Marydora Pee-Wee's were visitors to the Brady rink on Saturday in a grand play. The score was 4 to 3 in favor of Marydora. A nice crowd attended and a splendid lunch was served afterwards.

Alfred Marquardt shipped cattle east on Saturday morning train.

Max Hein returned on Wednesday train from Edmonton where he had taken a carload of cattle.

Mr. Meynberg and Sylvia made a trip to Regina on Monday with Mr. Meynberg returning on Friday train.

Stop us if you've heard the story of the airman who had to take to his parachute while he was flying at a height of about 2000 feet, owing to engine trouble. On the way down, he met a little old lady floating up.

"Hey," he yelled, "See anything of a Spitfire going down?"

"None," replied the little old lady. "You see anything of a gas engine going up?"

Mrs. Banbury (to the nurse): "Does you must really take better care of the children, or I shall have to disown you. Here you have gone and let poor little Arthur bite his tongue again!"

Westmount, Que., with 2 1/2 miles of streets, has placed all of its wires underground except those used for trolleys.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank the doctors of the Clinic and the nurses and hospital staff for the care given to me while I was a patient in the hospital, also to those who sent me fruit, cards and called on me while I was sick.

CLEVER SLANTS FOR NEW SCARF

New York—Nowadays scarves aren't worn only to keep one's neck warm. Brooke Cadwallader, who showed his spring collection recently, used them as "winders" like an small square tucked into pockets, and as flowery stoles for evening.

There were modern and old-fashioned themes. Among the former were silk prints with photographs of famous American women, and the Statue of Liberty, in clear, bright colors.

One sentimental print had grandmother's chair all over it in tiny design.

A dreamy stola had pink and taupe stripes as a background for thumbnail camera.

TWO NEW CHEMICALS FOR GRASSHOPPER WAR

Faced with the grim prospects of one of the worst grasshopper plagues in many years, western Canadian farmers have been given two new weapons to combat the hungry winged horde—chlorinated and chlorinated camphens.

Unlike old-type grasshopper baits such as sodium arsenite which is broadcast by machine or hand when mixed with bran or saw dust, the new chemicals can be sprayed over vegetation where grasshoppers are feeding. Regular 3-M-D boom sprayers, turbine sprayers, airplanes or helicopters may be used for spraying.

Intensive research has shown that chlorinated and chlorinated camphens give a higher initial kill and have a period of effectiveness from one to three weeks, according to the current in use of C-I-L-Oval. One pound of chlorinated camphens is one and one-half to two and one-half pounds per acre. The products are being marketed in the form of emulsion concentrates. On fields where vegetation is short, sparse and dry and as longer attractive to the grasshopper appetite, poison bait has been found more effective and economical, the Oval article states.

Agricultural chemists familiar with effects of the new chemicals, warn that forage treated with them should not be fed dairy animals. Nor should stockmen feed treated vegetation to animals being fattened for slaughter, since the poisons may accumulate in the animals' fatty tissues and render the meat unfit for food. Another possibility is that the poison may appear in milk and butter.

Neither chemical should be applied to fruits or edible leafy vegetables unless the latter are washed thoroughly before they are eaten.

CHEMICALS OUST QUININE AS TOP MALARIA REMEDY

THE HAGUE—One of the strangest wartime casualties is quite.

Before the war, it was No. 1 remedy for malaria all over the world. But today its supremacy has been dethroned as its recovery has now become a matter of concern.

About nine-tenths of the pre-war annual quinine consumption of some 1,000 tons was supplied by Indonesia. When the Japanese invaded the archipelago in 1942, the Allied world was therefore cut off from its main source of this indispensable remedy.

The cinchona tree, from the bark of which quinine is obtained, cannot be grown in a matter of months, and as there were very few cinchona plantations in other parts of the world, scientists were mobilized to produce chemical alternatives.

The expansion of the war into unhealthy, even unexplored, jungle areas added to the necessity for haste. The result was that long before the war ended, quinine as an antidote or cure for malaria had been almost completely supplanted.

So rapid was the production of these chemical substitutes, some of which are regarded as even better than quinine, that large stocks were piled up.

These must now be disposed of, together with the vast, inconvertible German and Japanese stocks of quinine, before it is possible to assess accurately the renewed world demand for the original cinchona product.

Competition keen.

Even then the question being asked here is: will Indonesia regain its position as chief supplier? Competition is already keen.

The French, for example, are experimenting in 14 different parts of their empire to establish their own quinine plant. Belgium also is encouraging cinchona production. King Leopold established a plantation in the north-east Belgian Congo some years ago from seeds presented to him by the Dutch in Indonesia. The annual production from this area is now about 100 tons of quinine.

The Dutch have a difficult task if they are to regain even a portion of their pre-war sales. Yet they feel that in spite of all competition, quinine still has a future.

This view is partly based on the fact that although the Germans had a highly developed chemical industry, they continued during the war to do with world consumption now down to about 100 tons a year—and with growing competition from other lands.

HAPPY GANG M.C.

Bert Pearl, mother one of those Western radio people who went East, made the bell ring loud and long when he first organized the Happy Gang in June, 1937. That same bell is still ringing this 1948-49 radio season as the Happy Gang's own Happy brings his crew to CBC's Trans-Canada network Monday to Friday every week.

The Dutch have instituted a crop restriction and regulation scheme.

Dr. Newton is head of the plant pathology laboratory of Sarsichton Experimental Farm. He said plant pathologists had already used radioactive phosphorus—by-product of atomic blast—in enriching soils.

From these experiments it was possible to determine the exact quantity of phosphate required by a particular type of plant for its proper development.

"Animals are dependent on phosphorus and calcium derived from plants grown in rich soils," he said. "Animals always graze on land rich in phosphate and calcium in preference to land deficient in these chemicals. Cattle have an instinct we have lost."

He told of his search for a penicillin substitute which he hoped to find in radish seeds, containing a substance which may destroy disease germs. The seeds had already proved effective in the fight against potato blight.

It may have medicinal value after further study.

Pathologists were also studying plant hormones as a weapon against insects to prevent to a large extent the now not affecting apices.

EXPERT TO PROBE "WEEPING TOWERS"

OCKER HILL, Staffordshire, England—It always—well, for the last six months, anyway—rains at Ocker Hill. The town's 5,517 inhabitants say the perpetual rain is caused by two giant cooling towers at the local electricity plant. The towers belch steam and the steam turns to rain.

"It's like a fine fog," they say. "At the time."

So many people applied for extra coal to dry their wet clothing the health ministry decided to send a scientist to investigate the "weeping towers" of Ocker Hill.

JOHNNY UNION MEN BACK IN BRITAIN

Chichester, England—The "union men from Brittany are back in Britain reviving a pre-war custom."

Two young French cyclists, string bags of onions over the handlebars, arrived from Brittany and said about 100 more men were coming.

"Business is quite good," one said. "I only wish I had more to sell." Only 2,000 tons may be imported during the season.

The onion sellers in their peaked caps and leather jerkins were familiar sights before the war, even in remote places of Britain.

PELICAN

Jimmy Newell had a most unfortunate accident. He was using a small circular saw when the fingers of his left hand were drawn into the saw and one finger was almost cut completely off, two others badly cut. He was rushed to the doctor in Wainwright.

Nick Leask has also been having his troubles. He has been nursing a sore knee for some time and was finally obliged to go to hospital to have some bone splinters removed. He is up and around again walking with the aid of a cane.

Mrs. Holland returned from a very nice trip to Winnipeg where she visited her daughter Joan and family.

Jack Cornfield, who now works in the Bank of Montreal in Edmonton, was home for the week-end.

Stan Steele and Jimmy Miles brought two carloads out from town on Sunday to toboggan and sled on the river hill.

The Farmers' Union of Alberta meeting was held in Pelican on Monday, January 31. Quite a large crowd turned out to hear the delegate, Romeo Belanger report on the Joint Convention. After a fine report and a short business meeting, the ladies present served lunch. The next meeting will be held on February 28 at which Tim Bazel, our hospital representative will speak to the meeting. We would like to see a good turnout at this meeting. Lunch will be served.

RADIATOR CARE

That "sputtering" in your radiator means that the valves are worn and should be replaced immediately, the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating cautions in a series of service suggestions just issued. "Sputtering" shows that you are not getting the most efficient heating from the radiators, it adds.

"The radiator that can't breathe easily is able to do only half a job," the Institute points out. "Radiators, it continues, are important assets of the home in the winter days. Their job is to supply a steady flow of regulated heat, and when they fail they cost you money or discomfort."

Radiators should be dusted regularly, for dust acts as an insulator and tends to prevent the heat from spreading into the room. Special attention should be paid to corner radiators, to hidden as well as obvious surfaces. No draperies or furniture should be so close to the radiator that they block the heat, and the radiator top should never be used for storing magazines or papers—however hot the news may be.

Cold spots may appear in hot water radiators, caused by an accumulation of air inside the "rad", because a radiator full of air cannot possibly be full of hot water too. You can easily purge such air-block by opening the small valve at the top of the radiator.

Do not expect your radiators to perform more than their natural tasks. Do not, for example, air a room so thoroughly that the radiator freezes and then expect it to thaw itself without trouble. If you must have a window open close to the radiator, don't turn the radiator completely off. Leave the shut-off valve partially open so that sufficient hot water can be used.

Generally, it is not advisable to drain the water from heating systems since steady heating keeps the water in good condition. This is especially important in districts where there is a lot of lime in the water. Drains provided at low points in the system for the removal of dirt or other solid accumulations should be used occasionally—say once a year in the spring—on should be closed again as soon as clear water appears.

Through the radiator he eliminates all danger of freezing.

Robinson Crusoe named the man who became his famous helper after the day on which he found him, Friday.

A synd is a meeting of conclusions to consult on religious matters. A private met a sergeant and asked: "Suppose a private would say to a sergeant, 'You've got the manners of a donkey, what would happen?' He'd be sent to the guardhouse," replied the sergeant. "Suppose the private didn't say but just thought it, what would happen?" "Nothing would happen," Then, said the private as he walked away, "I'll leave it at that."

U. of A. News Column

UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA
1. Background and Organization
Not long ago a professor from the University of Alberta travelling in a remote area of the province helped a man from the neighborhood who was having trouble with his car. The man thanked the professor and asked: "Where do you hail from, anyway?" "From the University," replied the professor, thinking that would answer the question fully.
"The University?" said the other, "Where's that?"
There were probably very few people who do not know that the University of Alberta is located in Edmonton in the southern part of the city, but there are probably a great many who are not aware of what goes on to make up the University, what is taught there, what research is carried on there and how it serves the people of the province. Since the Provincial University and the people of the Province have a close connection with each other and mutual responsibility, it is important that they should become better acquainted.

EARLY CARE REDUCES
DENTAL CARE
Scientific investigation has proved that if parents provide careful and competent dental treatment for their child, commencing at 2½ or 3 years of age, and continue to provide this treatment as often as the dentist advises, they will find, when he is 16 years old, that the cost of his dental treatment is only one-third of what it would be if he had deferred treatment until he was 15 years old.
That is the National Health Week message from the Canadian Dental Association.

Small tiny cavities are filled painlessly, and the cost is very little. This plan assures the child better general health, because there will be no sore aching teeth to prevent proper mastication of food, and cause lack of sleep and rest. Also it will improve his appearance, prevent irregular teeth, greatly assist him in his speech, and open up better opportunities for him later in life.

Of course home care, attention, and teaching him how to adopt good mouth habits, are essential.
In order to save this two-thirds cost the mother must have a reasonable knowledge of proper diet, for the foods eaten make all the difference in the world. The amount of sugar and foods made from refined flours must be reduced greatly. Candy bars and soft-drinks can be very destructive to tooth structure. Fruits, vegetables raw and cooked, nuts, whole grain bread, and plenty of milk, butter, eggs, cheese and meat must be used. Horse care and correct diet, to go along with periodic dental treatment by a careful, competent dentist—commencing at three years of age—will save enough (in dental bills alone) to give the child a neat egg in the bank.

A new method of prevention being used by dentists today is the application of a 4% solution of fluoride fluoride to each tooth. This requires at least four applications at intervals. The benefit of this lasts for several years, so the best time are at 1½, 3, 6 and 12 years. This is not effective for adults, as it must be applied while the child is still growing. While it does not help every child, health authorities state that this treatment will cut down tooth decay sometimes as much as 40 percent. Sodium Fluoride is a poisonous drug, but a dentist can apply this solution safely.

CANADIAN EXPORTS EXCEED THREE BILLION IN 1948

Canadian commodity exports exceeded three billion dollars during the past year, being surpassed only by the values in 1944 and 1945 when shipments of munitions and other war materials were particularly large. The total for 1948 was $3,075.8 million, four times the 1938 figure, and a quarter of a billion greater than in 1947.
Of particular significance are the Canadian exports to the United States, amounting to $1,501 million, the largest value on record. Measures taken in November 1947 to conserve United States dollars and to develop markets south of the border are partially responsible for the better position. In particular, a movement of cattle and beef from this country to the United States during the last four months of the year contributed substantially.

On the other hand, exports to the Commonwealth countries declined during the year from $1,168.5 million in 1947 to $1,024.2 million in 1948, largely as a result of the reduction in shipments to the United Kingdom. There was a marked decline in shipments to Australia and New Zealand but exports to the Union of South Africa reached a new peak of $22.2 million as compared with $16.7 million in 1947.

OLD BOYS ORGANIZE
Edmonton—Between 60 and 70 former members of the Royal North-West Mounted Police plan to form an organization for veterans of the service in Edmonton.

The cost of providing University education has risen sharply in the last few years for two main reasons in addition to the general rise in prices. First, there are far more young men and women in attendance than before the war and it is necessary to erect new buildings to accommodate them—this at a time when building costs are the highest they have ever been. Secondly, the new techniques of science require new equipment which is often very complicated and very expensive. Hence the University is obliged to seek increased financial assistance from the Government—i.e. ultimately from the people of the province.
The University, on its part, has an increasing responsibility to the people. As our society and its economy become more complex, higher standards are demanded in all branches of professional education. The teacher used to be regarded as fairly well equipped for his work with a high school certificate and a year in normal school. We are now reaching the point where the normal period of advanced training will be four years culminating with the degree of Bachelor of Education. So it is in Medicine, Dentistry and Pharmacy, Agriculture, Engineering and Law. The University must meet this need by means of better training for its staff and more elaborate library and laboratory facilities. New courses must be devised to meet new professional needs. In the past new courses in such faculties as Agriculture, Arts and Science and the rest and new programs outlined for year, for example, the General Faculty Council has outlined new programs for Petroleum Engineering, Irrigation Engineering and Engineering Geology and the Board of Governors has authorized their being given.

The University is a large and complex organization devoted to two basic ends—that of teaching young men and women in order to keep alive the great body of knowledge which forms our cultural heritage, and that of pushing forward the frontiers of knowledge still further to promote a better life for mankind. These two functions are, in the University, interdependent and inseparable.

The organization of such a great institution seems at first to be very complex, so a few words of explanation may be useful at the start of this series.

The University of Alberta was created by an Act of the first session of the first legislature of the Province in 1908, but it is now governed under the terms of a new Act of 1942. The Lieutenant Governor as representative of His Majesty the King in right of the Province is the Visitor of the University. The position of highest dignity among University officials is that of Chancellor. He is elected by Convocation, is chairman of that body and confers all degrees. He is ex officio a member of the Board of Governors and Chairman of the Senate.
The President is the chief executive officer of the University. He is appointed by the Government and is ex officio a member of the Board of Governors, of the Senate, and of all Faculty Councils and in other Faculty Councils when present.

Youth and Agriculture

The Junior Farm Club program in Canada is exerting an important influence on the development of our greatest natural resource, the youth of the country. Club work teaches a greater appreciation of rural life, of improved agricultural and home-making practices, and of the duties and responsibilities of good citizenship.

The first club was organized at Roland, Manitoba, in 1911. Under the Agricultural Extension Service of the several provinces the movement has expanded until, in 1948, there were 3,484 organized clubs with an active membership of 45,907. The Canadian Council on Boys and Girls' Club work seeks to co-ordinate and develop the program across the country.

Some Interesting Facts: The Prairie Provinces are serving through club activities, a higher proportion of the rural youth of club age, than any other part of Canada. With over a million young people of club age on farms in Canada only 1 out of every 26 was enrolled in the 1948 club program. In Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, however, the ratio last year was 1 out of 8, 1 out of 10, and 1 out of 14, respectively. Much remains to be accomplished before we equal the record of the U.S.A. where 1 out of every 4 eligible farm boys and girls are enrolled in Junior work (the 4-H Club program).

"Learning to Do by Doing". The basic principle of club work involves good local leadership, supplemented with an interesting program and adequate study material. More leaders, prepared to give efficient and devoted service are needed if the program is to expand as it should. The trend in recent years toward district conventions, days, district rallies, and district leadership conferences should make it possible to serve an expanded program. The Extension Service across the country deserves a large measure of support and co-operation from all interested agencies.

Increasing the great contribution that Junior Farm Club work is making in the training of our rural youth and hence to the future of Canadian agriculture, the Line Elevator Companies sponsoring this Department will continue to lend their fullest support.

New Medical Service Plan Of Special Interest To Municipalities

The financial burden of serious illness has ever been the source of worry to the average citizen. The announcement of a Budget Plan for complete Medical and Surgical Care will therefore be received with widespread satisfaction and approval.

Our organization of such a plan for Prepaid Medical Care has been completed by Medical Services (Alberta) Incorporated, a non-profit association, whose purpose is to provide the most complete care possible at the lowest rates which can safely be charged. This plan which protects you and your family with Medical care, is sponsored by the Physicians and Surgeons of Alberta, and is the only Medical Service Plan in Alberta which has the official endorsement of the Medical Profession. It is offered to the Citizens of the Province, with the fewest possible restrictions or regulations. The Plan provides its members with absolute sense of health security—freedom from worry about future Doctor's bills—freedom from charity or medical service that may now be within their means—the same benefits for their families and dependents as for themselves.

The Plan is immediately available to Employees Groups—Members of a common Occupational Group or Society—and to Municipal Districts in Alberta. For information about the formation of a Group see the Secretary of your Municipality, or write to Medical Services (Alberta) Incorporated, 301 Alexandra Street, Edmonton, Alberta.

FAMILIARIZE BOYS WITH INFANT CARE
Wellington, N.Z.—Boys as well as girls in elementary schools in New Zealand are to be taught to care for babies. It is part of a plan to make all young people thoroughly familiar with handling babies before they are married. The Health Department considers that too many young fathers leave the care and management of the baby too much to the mother.

"In the pre-natal period the father should be interested in baby clothes, cot, pram and bassinets," the department says. "When the baby comes, the father should take every chance to share in the management—in the early morning or evening, or at weekends."

WAR ON PESTS—1949
Operation orders are now being drawn up for what is expected to be one of the hottest anti-pest wars in Canadian history. From C.H.Q. of the National "War on Pests" Committee comes word that this year's campaign will be aimed at not only the common housefly, but rats, household insects, grasshoppers, garden insects and weeds.

While this may sound like an ambitious program and will not likely be 100 per cent successful, it will serve to awaken citizens to the fact they needn't tolerate having themselves robbed of health, comfort and money by a horde of pests which can be destroyed if everyone co-operates.

The 1948 efforts of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Canada showed how effective such co-operation can be. Highly successful anti-fly campaigns were conducted in the Maritimes in Amherst, N.S., Moncton, N.B. and Charlottetown, P.E.I. This year's first east coast centre are planning to emulate these leaders in community effort.

Largely as a result of a number of spraying demonstrations by industrial firms Montreal has engaged a university graduate to serve as pest control officer and provisions have been made in the city's 1949 budget for a war of pest campaign. In Ontario, active campaigns were conducted in Toronto, Hamilton, Peterborough and Brantford, Simcoe, Ont. because of the most fly-free cities in Canada, when 75 per cent of the homes was fogged with DDT.

Winipeg, Moose Jaw and Saskatoon led the prairie in last year's anti-pest war. In British Columbia, Dawson Creek initiated a lively campaign while a general campaign was carried out to combat flies and mosquitoes in flooded areas. The war is still on—only on a much larger scale. Let's get in it this year.

SEWING MACHINE CARE

The sewing machine more of a treasure than ever, deserves all the care you can give it. Old machines that are given proper care will work well, and even new machines should receive attention. A few suggestions on care of the sewing machine are offered by Miss Margaret K. Fraser of the Alberta Department of Agriculture Home Economics Service.
The machine should be oiled regularly. Oil the machine after each day's work or at least after 8 or 10 hours of work. Oil it occasionally even though not in use. One drop of oil on each hole and moveable part is enough. Be sure to keep oil in the felt pad in the shuttle race. Run the machine rapidly for a few minutes immediately after oiling and leave the head up for several hours to allow the oil to circulate well. Wipe off excess oil before stitching.
Clean your machine after each use. Brush away dirt and lint on the upper side of the shuttle race. Release the belt and turn back the machine head to clear the under side of the shuttle race. You will be surprised how much lint collects, especially when you are working on wood.

Check your needle regularly to see that it is sharp and straight. A needle of the wrong length will cause skipped stitches or will break the thread. Have a variety of sizes so that you can match the size of your needle to the size of your thread.

Adjust the tensions properly. There are two tensions on all machines. The upper tension controls the pull of the thread from the needle. The lower tension, which is adjusted by a screw on the shuttle holder, adjusts the pull on the thread from the bobbin. Always assume that the lower tension is correct until you have proved that it is not. Always lower the presser foot when testing the top tension.

Adjust the length of stitch to the type of material being sewn.
In the average family, the sewing machine requires a thorough cleaning about twice a year. The cleaning procedure can be learned easily. Professional servicing is not necessary unless some part needs replacing.

FORECAST $8,000,000 FROM GASOLINE TAX

Provincial government revenue from the nine cents per gallon gasoline tax probably will reach the record total of more than $8,000,000 in the fiscal year which ends March 31, next, according to officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

This estimate is based on the steady gains in revenue from the Fuel Oil tax act shown in reports by the provincial auditor during the last year. In the 1947-48 fiscal year, the gasoline tax revenue amounted to $7,657,000, which itself was a substantial gain over previous years.

With registrations of motor cars greatly increased during the year, gasoline tax revenue is certain to hit new high levels.

The registrations of cars also have been rising ahead of other years. Up to the end of December last, the total of passenger car licenses issued was 113,678. This was 5,236 more than the total for the entire 1947-48 fiscal year. Official reports show that the gasoline tax now is a main source of provincial revenue.

FAMILY TRADE

Halifax—Gordon MacDonald, 62-year-old railway man, has his blacksmith's forge and anvil set up in the backyard. He can't stand fumes in a closed shop. Blacksmithing runs in the family; his mother could shoe a horse with the best.

We have seen that nations either voluntarily choose teamwork, or involuntarily are forced under duress.
